

APPROPRIATION BILLS GETTING ACTION NOW

By The End Of This Week All Small And Special Bills Will Be Out Of Way For Budget

NO ATTENDANCE IN SENATE

Harrisburg, June 19.—Appropriation bills on final passage consumed much of the time of the Senate today. The upper body had a couple hundred of the local bills to dispose of, bills which already have been passed by the House. As usual, the "roll call" was a joke, with the Senate chamber virtually bare of members.

Seventy-four Senate appropriation bills on second reading were on the House calendar and were disposed of with despatch to make way for other bills on third reading or final passage. These appropriations will be passed finally by the House tomorrow.

It is expected that by the end of this legislative week all miscellaneous appropriation bills will be out of the way. About the only appropriation left will be the general appropriation bill, which is always the last thing passed, anyhow, and it not likely to be ready for the governor until just before the gavel falls on Thursday of next week.

Either some time today or tomorrow the House is expected to give Senate bills the right-of-way on the House calendar. This action will mean that any House bill which has not been passed finally by that time will have very little chance; there are hundreds such, including the three-score bills establishing new state highway routes.

Of particular interest to the six thousand or more that employees was the final passage of the Woodward bill appropriating $255,000 with which to pay salaries until such time as the general appropriation bill becomes a law. All appropriations of 1915 lapsed with June 1, 1917. Except for the Woodward bill employees would have to wait indefinitely for their pay; this might be as long as thirty days after final adjournment. Last week the legislature sent the Woodward bill to the governor but it was then discovered that it appropriated only "Two hundred and ninety-five dollars" instead of "Two hundred and ninety-five thousand dollars." Last night it was yanked back from the governor for amendment.

Hoover Tells Senate U. S. Must Feed Allies

Wants Immediate Passage of Lever Food Control Bill

By Robert J. Bender (By United Press) Washington, June 19.—It is up to America to feed the allies or fight the great war alone. It is up to America to demand the passage of the Lever food control bill or else let the Teuton hosts embark on America's shores. This was the outstanding feature in Herbert C. Hoover's plea to the senate when he went before them today.

ENEMY POSITIONS RAIDED

(By United Press) London, June 19.—Fighting on the British front was confined to raiding operations according to Field Marshal Haig's report today. "Southeast of Leuven and in the neighborhood of the Bauparnhe-Cambrai road we raided enemy positions at night, he killed. Eleven prisoners were taken," said. Several of the enemy were

OPERATED ON YESTERDAY

Walter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Logan, was operated on at the Clearfield hospital yesterday for mastoid abscess and while he is getting along as well as could be expected under the circumstances is quite seriously ill.

Dr. F. D. Leopold, accompanied by his mother and son Richard, motored to Altoona yesterday. Mrs. Leopold and Dick took the train there for Saxton, Pa., where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Herbst for some time.

Elinor Glyn wrote her first successful novel to distract her thoughts during a serious illness.

ALUMNI OF ST. FRANCIS WILL BANQUET

Next Annual Affair Will Be Held At The Dimeling Hotel Next Thursday Evening

BIG ATTENDANCE IS ASSURED

Preparations for the annual banquet of the St. Francis High School alumni association, to be held at the Dimeling, Thursday, June 21, are about completed.

Recollections of former banquets will bring back the majority of the old crowd, and while the war has made some vacancies in its ranks, the officers expect the largest crowd in the history of the association. Each year has shown a big increase in the attendance at this affair and much praise is due those in charge of the association. Their untiring efforts have been successful in gathering together all the graduates and cementing them into a solid organization of loyal sons and daughters.

In spite of the war, the capable manager of the hotel has in preparation a very attractive menu for the affair. Some excellent toasts will be a feature of the evening. Everything will be informal and those who are privileged to attend will be assured of an entertaining evening.

For twenty years St. Francis High school has been sending pupils forth to take their place in the world. Her classes have not been large, but her graduates have been a credit to the school, and it will be a representative group of men and women who will gather around the banquet table—all bound by one common tie to their Alma Mater.

TEDDY ASSAILS ALL ENEMIES OF BRITAIN

Man Who Cannot Forget Our Trouble With England Scored As Unjust And Unpatriotic

JUDGE BY PRESENT ACTIONS

(By United Press) Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 19.—Col. Roosevelt has started his fight against individuals and those who are seeking to foster unfriendly feeling for England in this country. His first broadside was against the circulation of the appeal "fighting England's war." Addressing a Red Cross meeting here the Colonel declared that the only reason the war has not been brought to this country rests with the English navy and the British and French armies. "There are those here in America who recently have been asking why we fight on the same side as England, our ancient enemy. I would like to see any man here who is so unpatriotic even to say that at this time. Any man who hates England any more than he loves the United States should be thrown out of the country. Any nation must be judged by its co-operation in crisis and anyone who is against England is as unsafe and unjust as a quarrel between two men because their grandfathers fought. The sentiment is that of a traitor."

ANOTHER PLAY FOR PEACE

(By United Press) Stockholm, June 19.—Germany is planning shortly to release a large number of Russian prisoners in the hope of increasing separate peace sentiment in Russia, according to word received here today.

JOHNS HOPKINS UNIT / ARRIVES IN EUROPE

Washington, June 19.—The army medical unit of Johns Hopkins university of Baltimore arrived at an European port today.

Local showers this afternoon and tonight. Cooler tonight. Wednesday fair and warmer.

Clearfield Gives Almost Nine Thousand Dollars On First Day of Red Cross Week

The Solicitors Find Elegant Reception Awaits Them From All True Blue Americans In This Vicinity

HARD AT HUMANITARIAN WORK TODAY

It started with a bang! The City of Clearfield responded to the plea of the American Society of Red Cross with a generosity that agreeably surprised the solicitors and rounded up a sum total for the day that amazed the Committee when they met last night to sum up totals and tabulate the results of the day's work. Following is the result for the first day of the campaign which will continue until next Monday inclusive.

Nine of the teams reported. The branches and rural districts had not reported so that the full amount of the first day's canvass within the jurisdiction of the Clearfield Chapter cannot be given.

Total pledged	Paid on pledges	Due on pledges
$8238.50	$3866.50	$4372.00
Spec. $100.00
$8238.50	$3866.50	$4372.00

Mooley Started Them Today

This morning, Old Mooley gave a short snort which was the signal for the committees to go forth in search of members and in a short while busy solicitors with a hand full of cards were buttonholing every man they could find. Mooley acted queer. That little snort could not be understood by the captains. It sounded like a snort of disgust. Perhaps the refractory old bovine was not satisfied with the work of the committees yesterday. She may belong to that hard headed class that does not believe in giving credit for deeds well done but rather continues to drive forward. She may register satisfaction tomorrow morning but that remains to be seen. Mooley will call the workers to duty every morning at nine A. M. so don't think there is a fire if the familiar sound is heard at that hour.

Many Autos Pledged

The committee reports with considerable satisfaction that several men have pledged the use of their automobiles for the balance of the week. The solicitors must have more cars if they are to cover the ground thoroughly. W. J. Usher, chairman and generalissimo of the scarlet legion will be at his office tonight between seven and eight and he would be pleased to have any auto owner call him up and pledge the use of an auto to the committees for the next three or four days. This will help wonderfully. With good transportation facilities the solicitors can cover three times the ground.

Some Dissenters Found.

One often wonders how in the name of common sense any man who has lived in America enjoying its privileges and accepting the benefits of its institutions can turn their back upon our President and our brave boys who will fight for us and yet the committees have found a number of Kaiser sympathizers who are either so thoroughly imbued with the spirit of the Fatherland or are simply too cold blooded to see the necessity of caring for the starving, the wounded and the sick. The committees with true American spirit are giving each of these people the right to their own opinion knowing that in good time the light will dawn upon them and they will appreciate the fact that their place is in the ranks with the Americans. One thing about the

Aged Anxious to Help

Many incidents of an interesting nature are told by the solicitors. So many that it is impossible to relate any but a couple of them here. At one humble home an aged man and lady told the solicitor that they were without money to give but that they would be glad to do sewing or knitting of any kind if the materials were

PROCLAMATION OF RED CROSS WEEK

INASMUCH as our thoughts as a nation are now turned in united purpose towards the performance to the utmost of the services and duties which we have assumed in the cause of justice and liberty.

INASMUCH as but a small proportion of our people serve upon the actual field of battle, but all men, women and children alike may serve and serve effectively by making it possible to care for those who do serve under arms at home and abroad.

AND INASMUCH as the American Red Cross is the official recognized agency for voluntary effort in behalf of the armed forces of the nation and for the administration of relief.

Now, therefore, by virtue of my authority as President of the United States and President of the American Red Cross I, Woodrow Wilson, do hereby proclaim the week ending June 25, 1917, as Red Cross Week during which the people of the United States will be called upon to give generously and in a spirit of patriotic sacrifice for the support and maintenance of this work of national need.

WOODROW WILSON

sent to them. Having done their life's work they were still willing and anxious to get into the harness again in the interest of humanity. Still another instance of this spirit was the condition found by another solicitor who interviewed a woman who supported herself by working. Her son is now an enlisted man. She could not become a member of the Red Cross but she gave all she had—fifty cents—and expressed her regret at not having more to give. This lady, God bless her and may we have more like her, may rest assured that her son is going to be taken care of by the Red Cross, and made as comfortable as it is possible to do in war.

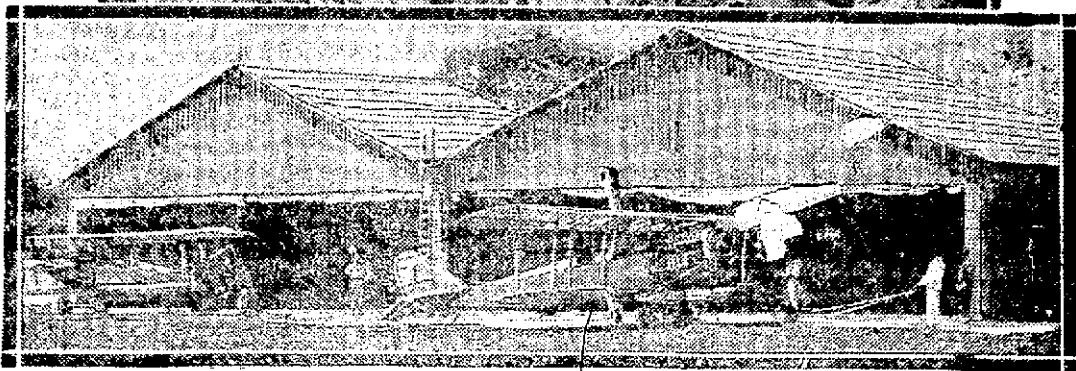

A Banner Second Day

All indications point to a banner second day in the campaign. Don't get discouraged. Keep up the great work and America's Red Cross budget will be much more than a hundred million of dollars. When the hour of nine rolls around tomorrow morning give Old Mooley good reason to bawl out long, loud and lusty in appreciation of your second day's work.

OIL TANKER TORPEDOED

New York, June 19.—Four men are missing and thought to have perished following the torpedoing of the Standard Oil Tanker J. D. Archbold, off the French coast local officials of the company were advised today. Fourteen Americans in the crew were saved. The missing men are foreigners. The vessel was of 8,874 tons and sailed from a French port on Thursday. It was attacked late on Saturday.

Princeton University has taken up the training of aviators for the war in France, and already one hundred young men have joined the Princeton Aviation school. Able instructors from abroad who have had actual experience in the war, have been obtained to teach the boys. These photographs show the instructors and officers of the school and the hangars.

OUR ARMY WILL BE OF FINEST YOUNG MEN

Army Surgeons Estimate That Forty Per Cent. Of Registered Men Will Fail Physical Test

WILL BE WAR OF YOUNG MEN

By Webb Miller Washington, June 19.—America's army will be of the finest physical men of the nation. Army surgeons today estimated that fully 40 per cent. of the men who come under the selective draft will be rejected after the first physical scrutiny. Here are the general requirements. Height 5 feet 4 and not over 6 feet. Weight not less than 128 pounds and not more than 190. Lungs and heart must be nearly perfect. Hearing and sight must be good. Chronic and mental disorders cause rejection. Loss of fingers, toe, or ear are disqualifications. Flat or deformed feet are also causes for rejection. Surgeons will examine closely for affected kidneys and chest. At least four molar teeth are necessary. "This war will be of young men, an official of the medical corps said today."

Stone Supports Denman In Ship Controversy

Goethals-Denman Fight Carried To Floor of Senate by Missourian

(By United Press) Washington, June 19.—Warning against the "bold attempt to rob the United States treasury" Senator Stone today charged Governor Goethals made contracts at $95 a ton for steel. Mr. Denman took these contracts and made contract tentatively at $56 a ton. I am compelled to say that I rejoice that such a man as Denman heads the shipping board.

Estimate $20,000,000 Was Raised Yesterday

New York Figures Not Available At Late Hour Today

(By United Press) Washington, June 19.—Every big city is active today in the Red Cross work. The total returns at ten o'clock reached $3,203,250. This did not include New York City which has not as yet reported officially. According to unofficial figures New York contributions reach $14,000,000 with $1,000,000 contributed by the J. P. Morgan Co. The total figures unofficially for yesterday is $20,000,000.

French Fire Breaks Heavy German Attack

Heavy Losses Inflicted on Teuton Assaulters Of French Position

(By United Press) Paris, June 19.—A violent German attack on the French positions taken Monday between Mt. Blonde and Mt. Cornelian (Champagne sector) were broken down in the French defensive fire, today's official report asserted. The war office described the preliminary artillery which was most violent. The Germans suffered heavy losses and the French captured many prisoners. North of St. Quentin toward Callone attacks on small posts were repulsed.

TODAY'S WAR RECIPE

From Britain's Official Win-The-War Cook-Book
STUFFED TOMATOES (for four people) One pound of tomatoes, a few crumbs or dry boiled rice, three tablespoons grated cheese, salt and pepper. Slice the tops from the tomatoes, and carefully scoop out the centers. Chop these finely and mix with them the cheese and seasoning. Add sufficient rice or crumbs to make the mixture rather stiff. Fill the tomatoes with this, and bake in a moderate oven for fifteen minutes.

FAIR COMMITTEE GETTING READY FOR BIG TIME

War Will Not Interfere With Plans For Another Big Exhibit Of Agricultural Products

SUGGESTIONS ARE INVITED

Two thousand copies of the premium list have been printed, of which 1200 have been sent out by mail to farmers. As it is impossible to make sure who will be interested, others may secure copies in the different towns as soon as they can be distributed. Copies of premium list and entry blanks may also be had by addressing the secretary of the Agricultural society or calling at the county superintendents' office at Clearfield, Pa.

Over $4600 is offered in premiums. The Park association is starting to erect a new exhibition building 50x100 ft. The park will be put in good shape for the fair. Room for additional stock will be built, also a poultry house and coops.

Most of last year's exhibits promised to come back. Mr. and Mrs. Farmer who did not exhibit, come this year and take a prize. Every effort will be made to use exhibitors and everybody else right. The boys and girls will find liberal prizes offered for school and garden work, stock judging and club work. Exhibits by town people will be just as welcome as by farmers. Bring some product of your garden. Ladies bring your fancy work or piece, or cakes, or bread, or jellies or canned fruits or vegetables and take some prizes. If you have anything of historical value, write or call up the Clearfield Progress. Mr. Stewart will give you information about bringing it to the fair. Relics of old times will add interest.

Mr. Merchant, you cannot afford to stay out. Your neighbor will have a booth. The automobile people will be there and we hope to have plenty of implements and machinery of all kinds. Already firms are asking permits to erect their own buildings.

Please examine the premium list carefully, not only with a view of taking prizes but for the sake of making the Clearfield county fair a credit to farmers of the county. For primarily, it is YOUR Fair—for if it does not stimulate agriculture of the better class it has no excuse for being held in this year of the nation's stress and need of all kinds of useful products especially of food products.

Holding a good, useful and financially successful fair is a very nice matter. While the educational features, the stimuli to better production, are its most valuable ones, yet amusements and recreation must be provided in order to increase attendance or it will fail financially. So in the line of free entertainment we are providing fire works for three nights by the same company that gave us such good ones last year. Will have an aeroplane for three days, baseball, and other sports, music, dancing, etc. Motor cycle racing was a splendid feature last year and will be continued. A free-for-all farmers' race for the fun there is in it will be a feature of Wednesday's program. We hope that many farmers will enter their horses and add to the sport. Thursday's county trot ought to be well filled. Everybody in the county, who thinks he has a good horse come and enter. Why not have a male race too. A real good lively male race is lots of fun. Write the secretary about it. And boys come in and organize a pony race or a foot race of a half mile. Mr. Corbett, Y. M. C. A. secretary, will take care of the sports.

All kinds of suggestions for having a good time will be welcome. And now listen—if you can get up any kind of good entertainment, band, orchestra, singing, fantastics, games, etc., that are acceptable, performers will at least get free tickets. Write secretary about anything connected with the success of the fair.

SHOPLIFTER AT CURWENSVILLE

TUESDAY EVENING, JUNE 19, 1917

THE MONTH OF JUNE

On the fifth of the month our young men walked up to their respective polling places and placed their lives in the hands of their Uncle Sammy to do with as he sees fit. To the everlasting glory of young American manhood the fact stands out that, while this method savors of the Prussianistic, less than one per cent balked and in a nation like ours, where free speech and the circulation of all sorts of propaganda is countenanced, there are bound to be minds influenced by all sorts and conditions of notions. Be that as it may, the bulk of the youngsters have come forward and laid their lives on the altar of their country so that government of the people, by the people and for the people might not perish from the earth.

Then comes the great Liberty Loan. To be sure every man who put his money at the call of the financial heads of the nation, was solicited from a financial standpoint—the resources of the nation back of your money; you can make a safe investment; you can earn interest on your money; there is no risk; there was very little of the patriotic appeal made and it can safely be said that the loan was negotiated on a purely business basis. But here is the outstanding fact that should be read, marked and inwardly digested by our enemy; the nation rose to the occasion and oversubscribed this first portion of the original seven billions by nearly fifty per cent!

So much for the men and the sinews of war. Now comes the greatest of the month's achievements! We're in a whirlwind nation-wide campaign to temper our first two acts with mercy. The American Red Cross is going to raise one hundred millions of dollars to assure these that offer their lives succor in time of need; and it may further be said that we do temper our justice with mercy for the Red Cross does equal service for friend and foe. Will this campaign be a success? Will the good men and women who are not only giving of their substance but their lives succeed? IT WILL! Did you ever see anything started in this country by such systematic effort that did not get across? YOU DID NOT!

OBITUARY

TROUTMAN

Squire H. A. Troutman, a former resident of Clearfield, but for many years a well known Civil war veteran of the DuBois region, passed away suddenly at his home on Maple avenue, DuBois, at noon yesterday, aged about 71 years.

After leaving Clearfield in the early '70's Squire Troutman located at Luthersburg, later removing to Oklahoma, Sandy township, where he resided for many years and where he took a prominent part in municipal and county affairs. On account of failing health he disposed of his business at Oklahoma and moved into DuBois several months ago.

HON. S. B. ELLIOT

Hon. S. B. Elliot, for the past thirty-five years one of the best known citizens of central Pennsylvania, died at 8 o'clock last evening at the home of his daughter Mrs. F. M. Brown, in Reynoldsville. Death came suddenly, following a stroke, which was the result of a train of minor ills which had a weakening effect on the heart. He had partaken of a light dinner and had walked upstairs to his room unassisted when the attack came and he passed peacefully away in a very short time.

Mr. Elliott was in his 87th year, having been born in Rome, Bradford County, Pa., October 1, 1830. He was married in 1853 to Harriet Clark, who died in 1877. Two children survive—Ward C. Elliott, of Reynoldsville, and Mrs. F. M. Brown, of the same place. The funeral will take place on Thursday.

Mr. Elliott had resided in DuBois for several years, coming here October 1, 1883 as superintendent of the mines of Bell, Lewis & Yates. Later he was transferred to Reynoldsville, where he took charge of all the plants of the above named company.

Mr. Elliott was a member of the Pennsylvania State Legislature from Tioga county for the term of 1860. For twelve years he has been one of the most enthusiastic and active members of the State Forestry commission of Pennsylvania and has probably done more than any other man, both by his speaking and writing, to draw attention to the need of scientific reforestation of the hills of the Keystone state.

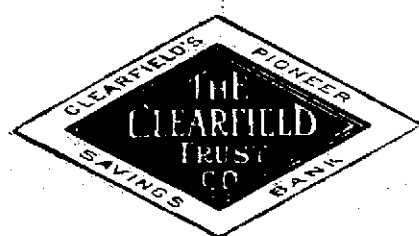

Stop Waste---Save

Thrift is an essential part of every patriot's duty.

Europe after two years of agony learned to abstain from luxuries to economize in comforts, to be frugal of necessities.

Let us profit by that example.

Preparedness by means of economy and saving is the spiritual and moral duty of every right-thinking American—NOW.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

HOW FOUR BROTHERS MET

[Adapted from Grimm's Fairy Tales.]

WHEN daddy asked if anybody wanted a story two children climbed into his lap. "Well, four brothers had to get on in the world. Their father was poor. One became an expert at taking things. No, he wasn't a thief, because he took what did not belong to others. One became a star gazer and learned what was happening in the world. The third brother met a hunter, who took him along and taught him all that was to be learned in the woods. Soon the boy became very clever in woodcraft, and when he was ready to go on by himself the hunter gave him a bow, saying, 'Whatever you shoot at with this bow you will be sure to hit.'

"The youngest brother presently met a man who asked him what he wanted to do for a living. 'How would you like to be a tailor?' asked the man. 'Sitting cross legged from morning till night and pulling forward and backward a needle with a goose sitting beside me does not appeal to me,' answered the boy.

"Oh! said the man. 'That is not the kind of tailoring I mean. Come with me and I will show you something better.'

"Having nothing better to do, the boy learned tailoring from the start. When he left his master gave him a needle and said: 'You can sew anything with this from an egg shell to a piece of steel. And the seam will be so fine that nobody can see it.'

"Better than I can sew," said Evelyn.

"After the space of four years had passed the four brothers met at a crossroads where they had parted. They were very glad to see each other, and after a good welcome they set off for their father's home. Of course, he was very glad to see his boys again and enjoyed hearing them tell how they had got on in the world and what trade they had learned.

"Of course, it is a very fine adventure to travel about the world while you are young. And those boys had kept their eyes open and had much to tell their daddy.

"One day as they were sitting at home under a big tree in the yard the father said, 'I should like to try what each of you boys can do.'

"He looked up and said to his second son: 'At the top of this tree is a chaffinch's nest. Tell me how many eggs there are in it.'

"The star gazer held up his glass and squinted through it. 'Five eggs,' said he.

"Were there five?" cried Jack.

"Just five," said daddy with a good night hug.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backache or Have Bladder trouble

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush out the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

Lillian Ruseiling has graduated from the high school of Mendota, Wis., with a record of having never been absent or tardy during her entire school career of 12 years.

HOT WATER THE BEST LIVER AND BOWEL MEDICINE

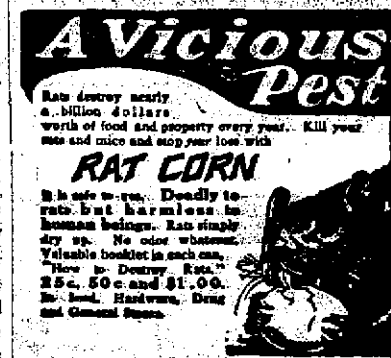

Says glass of hot water before breakfast washes poisons from system.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do.

Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.

CHICHESTER'S PILLS

THE DIAMOND BRAND

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Fort Sain Houston, June 13, 1917

Dear Mother: As I am guard supernumerary and have nothing to do today I thought I would try to write you a few lines.

First of all I want to tell you that we were paid yesterday afternoon. It certainly makes us fellows feel good to get a pay, especially the first one from "Uncle Sam." I am sure we have earned it by our seven hours of drilling each day. I did not see anyone going up to the pay master with his hands behind his back as though he was ashamed to take pay for his services. I drew sixteen dollars and eighty-eight cents. Enclosed you will find an order for eight dollars. Next pay I expect to draw about thirty dollars and will send more then.

I received a letter from Grandma and Aunt May. They certainly can write some wonderful letters. I have read their letters over at least a half dozen times. I want to write you part of the true and helpful advice they have given me. I will start with the first part of their letter.

"Dear Clyde:

"We were very much surprised to hear that you had enlisted in the army.

"I am sure it is a brave and heroic act for a young man to leave his happy home and loved ones and face the enemy of his country at the risk of his life.

"I am praying for the war to come to a close soon for the sake of the poor suffering people abroad and the men of our country. I was inclined to believe that the more Christian nations would not engage in this war. I was hoping that the difficulties could be settled in a more sane and humane way.

"I still hope our young men will not have to go to Europe, yet if they do they can feel that they are fighting for country, home and loved ones, for the betterment of their enemies and thereby for the glory of God. The you have some hard things to endure, remember, dear boy, that you are a soldier for God and country. That you serve Him best by being obedient to your superiors in the right, being cheerful and happy as you can. When tempted to do wrong be strong as a good soldier and you have the promise of God that you shall overcome the world.

"May God keep you safe from sin and danger and bring you home safe at the end of this great struggle."

I have passed this letter of grandma's and Aunt Mary's around to the other fellows. I wish every soldier in the army could read it. I am sure it would help some as it has me.

I am receiving a nice lot of mail from Clearfield and Bellefonte. I still get The Progress and enjoy it as ever. I pass it around to the others from Clearfield and towns around home. They are all glad to hear the home news.

I had the pleasure of helping Henry Merrill of Faunce eat a cake his sister sent him. Believe me it sure did taste great. After we ate it we went outside the post and had some ice cream. We then bought enough soap and other supplies to last us till next pay. I am a dollar or so to the good each month as I don't use any tobacco.

Well, as it is time for mail call now I will close and go down after my mail. Wish best wishes to all.

From your loving son

CLYDE JOHNSON

Fort Slocum

June 13, 1917

Dear Father and Mother:

Was glad to receive the Progresses that were sent to me. It sort of makes you feel at home. Dave arrived today from Clearfield. I expect to be there in July sometime.

A good many people do not know much of what the United States is going through now. She is trying to wipe out the anarchists and slackers and disloyal members of the government; in the meantime she is sending men to Europe, trying to provide for the Allies and keep her own head above water.

United States will without a question end this war; so it has been predicted, but how long will it take her to, with some disloyal American citizens.

If a man has no sons to give to the cause why not buy a liberty bond. It is a good safe investment and by buying one bond they provide for one soldier. If they buy five, they will provide for one soldier for a year. So everyone should do something to help the cause along. If not, why not. You will not receive a good answer.

Word was received here today that three regiments left for France. This is not known everywhere. Just wait till a strong body backs Old Glory. Then there is going to be a high time for some one. Everyone wants to go to France. All of us fellows are going to put in our request for transfers soon.

I tell you the people in Clearfield ought to be proud of our good old town. We have many men in the army. More than some cities. Our fellows were the first on the battle line so we are full of ardor.

We have had weather here lately, rain nearly all the time. We are all well though.

Often I wish I could be in Clearfield just a little while, but I never get homesick. That is what some fellows here do. They are very melancholy.

Well, I do not have much to say as we are all the same and nothing unusual happening so I will close.

I will write more next time. I nearly forgot to tell you that Victor was mail clerk.

Good bye, God bless you

With love to all

Employees Advice Proves Valuable

Says Sam Bell, The Well Known Porter At The Palace Hotel, Clearfield:

My employer, Edward Bird, noticed that I was not at my best, persuaded me to try Goldine. Well sir, you would be surprised to note that it made in me. Instead of being tired and worn out half the time, I am now in tip-top shape, feeling energetic and vigorous the whole day long. I eat better and sleep better. Instead of counting sleepless nights in the pit of my stomach, I sleep soundly and peacefully after meal time as before. My nerves are strong as steel and I sleep peacefully at night. I get up early in the morning feeling refreshed and look forward to the day's work with pleasure. Goldine has changed my life in me. Everyone says that I am the picture of health now. I shouldn't be, when I have a good appetite, sleep free and am in happy spirits? I am grateful for Goldine. I am doing for me, and for that others who suffer as I did, profit from my experience.

Remember I am at the Star Drug Store. A talk with Goldine doesn't cost you a cent, but may save you

COMB SAGE TEA
INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not stigmata, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

WANTS BIG AIR NAVY

HOWARD E. COFFIN

Howard E. Coffin, of the Council for Nation Defense, wants an enormous air navy, one so large that on all the western front from the North Sea to the Alps no German aeroplane will be permitted to leave its aerodrome. He said that the proposed appropriation of $54,000,000 was a mere drop in the bucket if America is to win the war.

SCHOOLS TO GET
LARGER AMOUNTS

Present Legislature Favors
$2,000,000 Increase.

TOTAL REACHES $18,000,000

Senator Crow, who led movement for more money for public schools, points out necessity for maintaining high standard—Republican Party a strong advocate for better schools.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 19.—Pennsylvania's public schools seem to be coming into their own at last. The general appropriation bill calls for $2,000,000 more than two years ago, or a total of $18,000,000. As first reported the increase was for one million additional, but an amendment was inserted raising this another million.

One of the most insistent advocates of the great increase in public school funds was Senator William E. Crow, Republican state chairman and leader of the upper branch of the general assembly. The one thing he kept foremost in mind since the beginning of the session was to shape matters that the appropriation committee might see its way clear to give the schools a substantial increase.

Senator Crow fought for this not only because of his personal belief in the state, lending every possible aid to the schools, but also by reason of the Republican party's consistent friendship towards the school system in Pennsylvania. The last Republican platform committed the party to an increased public school appropriation and the present action of the legislature is a decided step towards making good the pledge.

"Pennsylvania schools stand as high, if not higher, than the public schools of any other state, but notwithstanding this fact it is the duty of the legislature to strive to increase their efficiency," said Senator Crow a few days ago. "If this is not done it will not be long before other states pass us. Aside from this commendable desire to stand at the head of the schools of all states, I feel that we owe to the rising generation the extending of every educational opportunity. The best is not too good for the children of Pennsylvania and it is a well-known fact that it requires money to secure what is best in schools. For that reason the 1917 legislature is performing a noteworthy act in increasing the school appropriation to the extent of two million dollars over 1915."

Entitled to Credit.

"The Republican party, by reason of its dominance of the politics of Pennsylvania for so many years, is justly entitled to share in the credit for the present high standing of the schools of this state. Though it has never attempted to link politics with the schools—and, I hope, it never will—the fact remains that session after session the Republicans are in control of the general assembly and it is under their direction that the appropriations to the schools have steadily increased."

"Every Republican party platform within my knowledge has expressed its friendship to the schools of Pennsylvania. The last one was no exception. It became our duty, therefore, to do everything within our power to boost the school appropriation and I am glad that the committee has reported out an $18,000,000 bill. This is not a cent too much. Our population is steadily increasing, the necessity for new schools is more acute now than ever before and unless districts are given liberal aid from the state they will be greatly handicapped. Besides all this, the salaries of teachers have not been increased proportionately with those in other professions and trades and the willingness of the state to bear an additional financial burden, naturally enables the respective districts to grant increases wherever needed."

$400,000 For Mothers' Pension.

Another bill of state-wide importance reported out calls for $400,000 for mothers' pension. This is over twice the amount appropriated in 1915. In addition there is in the state treasury about $30,000 that reverts back by reason of certain counties failing to create a fund in accordance with the 1915 act.

Those backed of the mothers' pension movement asked $300,000, but they are satisfied that the committee did the best it possibly could under the existing financial condition of the state. A bill appropriating $100,000 for the manufacturing fund of the state prison labor commission has been reported out and will be passed. This money is to equip plants and buy machinery for penal institutions.

Another bill to see the light of day with every chance of going through is to appropriate $25,000 for the organization and work of a bureau of markets in the department of agriculture.

HELP THE PARK
IMPROVEMENT CAMPAIGN

Thousands of dollars have already been put into the park, its purchase, and improvement. Much more is needed. This is entirely apart from the expenses of the Fair, remember. The Agricultural society rents the park for the Fair from the Park association, a corporation formed for the worthy purpose of making a fit place to hold the Fair and other recreational meetings.

The money for the park's improvement has to be raised by the sale of bonds. They bear 4 per cent. interest which the Fair rental helps to pay. Clearfield county needs this Park. Clearfield especially needs it. If you have a little capital to spare put it into a good cause and help to make it a good investment, not only financially but for the good of the community by providing a pleasant place for picnic recreation and amusement, as it will become in the near future. Do this also by suggestions for planning its improvements and assisting in making them. Get interested in the Clearfield park and see or write to A. E. Leitzinger, or C. T. Kirtz, Clearfield, Pa., to find out how you can help.

More than 6,000 Canadians have joined the British navy during the war.

Juice of Lemons! How to Make Skin White and Beautiful

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as sallowness, freckles and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is wonderful to smoothen rough, red hands.

AIRPLANE DOES BATTLE WITH INFANTRY

Mounted Machine Gun On Flyer
Said To Have Annihilated A
Company Of 20 Germans

SWOOPED DOWN ON LANDSMEN

By Henry Wood
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

With The French Armies, May 23—(By Mail)—Adjutant Madon of the French Army Aviation has just received a new citation to the order of the day before the French armies for what he termed the first hand-to-hand battle between an aeroplane and infantry.

By leaving a German infantry patrol of twenty members annihilated, Madon has demonstrated that the machinegun-mounted aeroplane is as deadly on the ground as in the air.

Madon, who is one of the crack "aces" of the French aerial service, with eight German machines to his credit, had his battle just after bringing down his eighth victim.

This encounter had taken place miles behind the German lines. In the sharp, maneuvering about his German antagonist before he finally caught the latter square in the range of his machine gun and sent him gyrating to the earth, and overstrained his motor, throwing out of gear the rhythmic throb so essential to flying.

Too far away from the French lines to cut off his motor and volplane to safety, Madon had only one chance. This was to descend behind the enemy lines with the hope of getting his motor started properly and getting back into the air before the enemy should pounce on him.

Selecting a cleared place back of a forest, Madon alighted and began the hasty readjustment. Presently he noticed a man approaching, staring at him curiously. As the individual was not in uniform, and as he was far enough back of the German lines to be in territory where the civil population might still be, he decided the man must be a French peasant. Call-out to him in French he said:

"Please go away quickly, my friend I don't need your services and your presence might attract the Germans."

Within an instant, Madon was disillusioned. Turning, the man uttered a command in German and signalled for an advance. Instantly a German patrol leaped to its feet, and with rifles aimed started to bear down on the French aviator.

Almost at the same instant the motor of the airplane began the rhythmic chugging that indicated it was again operating properly. Madon leaped to his seat, loosened his brakes, adjusted his machinegun, and charged at ever increasing speed on the advancing infantry patrol.

The latter opened fire with their rifles as Madon's machinegun caught them in its deadly sweep. The Germans went down as though mowed by a cyclone, not over three or four remaining standing or kneeling.

Madon increased the speed of his engine and then bore down on the few remaining Germans. Whether they fell before the wings of the airplane struck them, or were mowed down by the machine, Madon does not know. He knows that he swept over them and an instant afterward had taken the air.

ADMINISTRATION SENATOR
ASSAILS THE FOOD BILL

Senator James A. Reed, Democrat and supporter of the administration, startled the Upper House of congress when he made a very strong attack on the administration food bill, calling it "dictatorial, vicious and unconstitutional." He said no such power as it contemplated conferring was ever wielded by "a king, a czar, a Caesar or a Kaiser."

Interesting Account Of Fighting From A Big British War Tank

FEELS FINE, SAYS "MRS. JOHN HOGAN"

She New Testicles That Tanks
Improved Her in Every Way

"Tanic has made me feel fine," declared Mrs. John Hogan, of Bridgeport, Pa.

"I learned of it through my son, who brought me the medicine about a week ago, and I began taking it."

"Owing to a bad, weak stomach, I have eaten very little for years, and I naturally, my strength and vitality, came very much lowered. Food, however, agreed with me, even the hardest kinds causing distress after eating. I had spells of bloating, shortness of breath, palpitation, dizziness and headaches. Months and months of such misery are sure to undermine the health of any woman. I finally grew very nervous and could not eat well at night."

"I am now feeling the best I have in years. Tanic relieved me immediately. The second day my appetite increased. I really was hungry and the grandest thing of all is that eating did not hurt me. Tanic strengthened my digestion and I do not have bloating or shortness of breath. The palpitation, headaches and dizziness have also gone."

"Tanic has made a new woman of me. I feel better every way. My nerves are better. I have plenty of strength and never have a bit of trouble sleeping. Tanic is a great relief from all other medicines."

"Tanic, the celebrated Master Medicine is now sold here by Woodward & McPherson."

"THE HEART OF A HERO"

A stirring tale of our famous revolutionary war, showing the hardships and privations our forefathers went through in order that today we might be recognized as the greatest nation in the world. For this patriotic purposes, the life of one noted patriot has been closely followed in the unfolding of the tale—Nathan Hale. All the scenes have been faithfully reproduced right up to the time when he ascends the fatal ladder to his glorious death. Your children will always be thankful you took them to see this play.

Will be at the Globe Theatre tomorrow.

A crowd of young girls well chaperoned enjoyed a fine picnic at poplar cottage yesterday.

EACH OF 10,667 OF THESE
BOUGHT A LIBERTY BOND

Every one of the 10,667 bluecoats of the New York police force bought a Liberty Bond. This policeman, known to every millionaire in New York City who frequents Wall Street as "Big Bill" Roberts, traffic man at Dey street and Broadway, bought one for himself, one for his wife and one for his only child. Members of the force took bonds to the total of $778,850 under the encouragement of Police Commissioner Woods, one of the few heads of the police department in fifteen years for whom they have had full respect.

SENATOR JAMES A. REED

Senator James A. Reed, Democrat and supporter of the administration, startled the Upper House of congress when he made a very strong attack on the administration food bill, calling it "dictatorial, vicious and unconstitutional." He said no such power as it contemplated conferring was ever wielded by "a king, a czar, a Caesar or a Kaiser."

THE RIGHT WAY TO CUT YOUR GRASS.

There's Just as Much Difference in Cutting Your Lawn as There is in Getting a Shave—You can Pull 'Em Out by the Roots or You can Have a Nice Smooth Job Treat your lawn as good as you do your face and you'll be repaid in not only having as good looking lawn as your neighbor's but you'll have the satisfaction of having a good job well done.

YOU WON'T MIND GETTING BEHIND ONE OF THESE MOWERS

They're ball-bearing and they are adjustable in height enabling you to give your lawn a "smooth shave" or just give it the "once over."

We've a service too, in connection with these mowers. We see that they are in perfect running order before they leave the store and if you have trouble after just let us know and we will get you out of your difficulties.

APPROPRIATION BILLS GETTING ACTION NOW

By The End Of This Week All Small And Special Bills Will Be Out Of Way For Budget

NO ATTENDANCE IN SENATE

Harrisburg, June 19.—Appropriation bills on final passage consumed much of the time of the Senate today. The upper body had a couple hundred of the local bills to dispose of, bills which already have been passed by the House. As usual, the "roll call" was a joke, with the Senate chamber virtually bare of members.

Seventy-four Senate appropriation bills on second reading were on the House calendar and were disposed of with despatch to make way for other bills on third reading or final passage. These appropriations will be passed finally by the House tomorrow.

It is expected that by the end of this legislative week all miscellaneous appropriation bills will be out of the way. About the only appropriation left will be the general appropriation bill, which is always the last thing passed, anyhow, and it not likely to be ready for the governor until just before the gavel falls on Thursday of next week.

Either some time today or tomorrow the House is expected to give Senate bills the right-of-way on the House calendar. This action will mean that any House bill which has not been passed finally by that time will have very little chance; there are hundreds such, including the three-score bills establishing new state highway routes.

Of particular interest to the six thousand or more State employees was the final passage today of the Woodward bill appropriating $255,000 with which to pay salaries until such time as the general appropriation bill becomes a law. All appropriations of 1915 lapsed with June 1, 1917. Except for the Woodward bill employees would have to wait indefinitely for their pay; this might be as long as thirty days after final adjournment. Last week the legislature sent the Woodward bill to the governor but it was then discovered that it appropriated only "Two hundred and ninety-five dollars" instead of "Two hundred and ninety-five thousand dollars." Last night it was yanked back from the governor for amendment.

Hoover Tells Senate U. S. Must Feed Allies

Wants Immediate Passage of Lever Food Control Bill

By Robert J. Bender (By United Press)

Washington, June 19.—It is up to America to feed the allies or fight the great war alone. It is up to America to demand the passage of the Lever food control bill or else let the Teuton hosts embark on America's shores. This was the outstanding feature in Herbert C. Hoover's plea to the senate when he went before them today.

ENEMY POSITIONS RAIDED

(By United Press) London, June 19.—Fighting on the British front was confined to raiding operations according to Field Marshal Haig's report today. "Southeast of Leuven and in the neighborhood of the Baupenne-Cambrai road we raided enemy positions at night, he killed. Eleven prisoners were taken," said. Several of the enemy were

OPERATED ON YESTERDAY

Walter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Logan, was operated on at the Clearfield hospital yesterday for mastoid abscess and while he is getting along as well as could be expected under the circumstances is quite seriously ill.

Dr. F. D. Leopold, accompanied by his mother and son Richard, motored to Altoona yesterday. Mrs. Leopold and Dick took the train there for Saxton, Pa., where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Herbst for some time.

ALUMNI OF ST. FRANCIS WILL BANQUET

Next Annual Affair Will Be Held At The Dimeling Hotel Next Thursday Evening

BIG ATTENDANCE IS ASSURED

Preparations for the annual banquet of the St. Francis High School alumni association, to be held at the Dimeling, Thursday, June 21, are about completed.

Recollections of former banquets will bring back the majority of the old crowd, and while the war has made some vacancies in its ranks, the officers expect the largest crowd in the history of the association. Each year has shown a big increase in the attendance at this affair and much praise is due those in charge of the association. Their untiring efforts have been successful in gathering together all the graduates and cementing them into a solid organization of loyal sons and daughters.

In spite of the war, the capable manager of the hotel has in preparation a very attractive menu for the affair. Some excellent toasts will be a feature of the evening. Everything will be informal and those who are privileged to attend will be assured of an entertaining evening.

For twenty years St. Francis High school has been sending pupils forth to take their place in the world. Her classes have not been large, but her graduates have been a credit to the school, and it will be a representative group of men and women who will gather around the banquet table—all bound by one common tie to their Alma Mater.

TEDDY ASSAILS ALL ENEMIES OF BRITAIN

Man Who Cannot Forget Our Trouble With England Scored As Unjust And Unpatriotic

JUDGE BY PRESENT ACTIONS

(By United Press) Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 19.—Col. Roosevelt has started his fight against individuals and those who are seeking to foster unfriendly feeling for England in this country. His first broadside was against the circulation of the appeal "fighting England's war." Addressing a Red Cross meeting here the Colonel declared that the only reason the war has not been brought to this country rests with the English navy and the British and French armies. "There are those here in America who recently have been asking why we fight on the same side as England, our ancient enemy. I would like to see any man here who is so unpatriotic even to say that at this time. Any man who hates England any more than he loves the United States should be thrown out of the country. Any nation must be judged by its co-operation in crisis and anyone who is against England is as unsafe and unjust as a quarrel between two men because their grandfathers fought. The sentiment is that of a traitor."

Clearfield Gives Almost Nine Thousand Dollars On First Day of Red Cross Week

HARD AT HUMANITARIAN WORK TODAY

It started with a bang! The City of Clearfield responded to the plea of the American Society of Red Cross with a generosity that agreeably surprised the solicitors and rounded up a sum total for the day that amazed the Committee when they met last night to sum up totals and tabulate the results of the day's work. Following is the result for the first day of the campaign which will continue until next Monday inclusive.

Nine of the teams reported. The branches and rural districts had not reported so that the full amount of the first day's canvass within the jurisdiction of the Clearfield Chapter cannot be given.

Total pledged	Paid on pledges	Due on pledges
$8238.50	$3866.50	$4372.00
Spec. $100.00
$8238.50	$3866.50	$4372.00

Mooley Started Them Today

This morning, Old Mooley gave a short snort which was the signal for the committees to go forth in search of members and in a short while busy solicitors with a hand full of cards were buttonholing every man they could find. Mooley acted queer. That little snort could not be understood by the captains. It sounded like a snort of disgust. Perhaps the refractory old bovine was not satisfied with the work of the committees yesterday. She may belong to that hard headed class that does not believe in giving credit for deeds well done but rather continues to drive forward. She may register satisfaction tomorrow morning but that remains to be seen. Mooley will call the workers to duty every morning at nine A. M. so don't think there is a fire if the familiar sound is heard at that hour.

Many Autos Pledged

The committee reports with considerable satisfaction that several men have pledged the use of their automobiles for the balance of the week. The solicitors must have more cars if they are to cover the ground thoroughly. W. J. Usher, chairman and generalissimo of the scarlet legion will be at his office tonight between seven and eight and he would be pleased to have any auto owner call him up and pledge the use of an auto to the committees for the next three or four days. This will help wonderfully. With good transportation facilities the solicitors can cover three times the ground.

Some Dissenters Found.

One often wonders how in the name of common sense any man who has lived in America enjoying its privileges and accepting the benefits of its institutions can turn their back upon our President and our brave boys who will fight for us and yet the committees have found a number of Kaiser sympathizers who are either so thoroughly imbued with the spirit of the Fatherland or are simply too cold blooded to see the necessity of caring for the starving, the wounded and the sick. The committees with true American spirit are giving each of these people the right to their own opinion knowing that in good time the light will dawn upon them and they will appreciate the fact that their place is in the ranks with the Americans. One thing about the

Aged Anxious to Help

Many incidents of an interesting nature are told by the solicitors. So many that it is impossible to relate any but a couple of them here. At one humble home an aged man and lady told the solicitor that they were without money to give but that they would be glad to do sewing or knitting of any kind if the materials were

PROCLAMATION OF RED CROSS WEEK

INASMUCH as our thoughts as a nation are now turned in united purpose towards the performance to the utmost of the services and duties which we have assumed in the cause of justice and liberty.

INASMUCH as but a small proportion of our people serve upon the actual field of battle, but all men, women and children alike may serve and serve effectively by making it possible to care for those who do serve under arms at home and abroad.

AND INASMUCH as the American Red Cross is the official recognized agency for voluntary effort in behalf of the armed forces of the nation and for the administration of relief.

Now, therefore, by virtue of my authority as President of the United States and President of the American Red Cross I, Woodrow Wilson, do hereby proclaim the week ending June 25, 1917, as Red Cross Week during which the people of the United States will be called upon to give generously and in a spirit of patriotic sacrifice for the support and maintenance of this work of national need.

WOODROW WILSON

sent to them. Having done their life's work they were still willing and anxious to get into the harness again in the interest of humanity. Still another instance of this spirit was the condition found by another solicitor who interviewed a woman who supported herself by working. Her son is now an enlisted man. She could not become a member of the Red Cross but she gave all she had—fifty cents—and expressed her regret at not having more to give. This lady, God bless her and may we have more like her, may rest assured that her son is going to be taken care of by the Red Cross, and made as comfortable as it is possible to do in war.

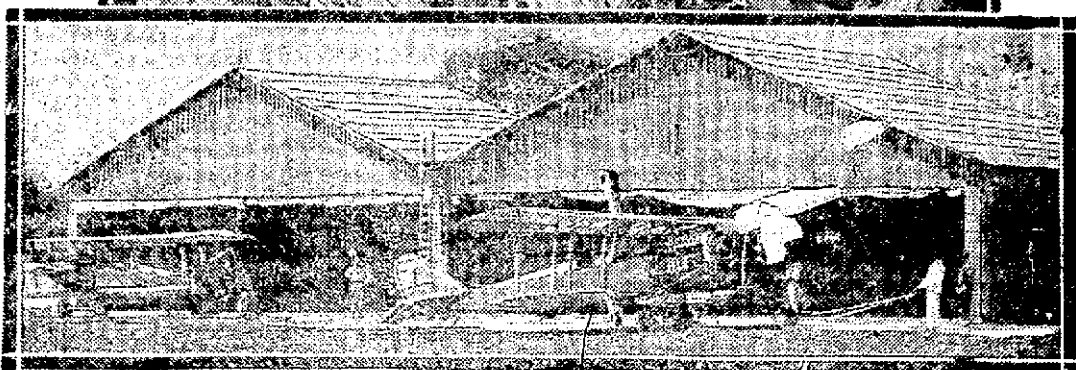

A Banner Second Day

All indications point to a banner second day in the campaign. Don't get discouraged. Keep up the great work and America's Red Cross budget will be much more than a hundred million of dollars. When the hour of nine rolls around tomorrow morning give Old Mooley good reason to bawl out long, loud and lusty in appreciation of your second day's work.

OIL TANKER TORPEDOED

New York, June 19.—Four men are missing and thought to have perished following the torpedoing of the Standard Oil Tanker J. D. Archbold, off the French coast local officials of the company were advised today. Fourteen Americans in the crew were saved. The missing men are foreigners. The vessel was of 8,874 tons and sailed from a French port on Thursday. It was attacked late on Saturday.

OUR ARMY WILL BE OF FINEST YOUNG MEN

Army Surgeons Estimate That Forty Per Cent. Of Registered Men Will Fail Physical Test

WILL BE WAR OF YOUNG MEN

By Webb Miller

Washington, June 19.—America's army will be of the finest physical men of the nation. Army surgeons today estimated that fully 40 per cent. of the men who come under the selective draft will be rejected after the first physical scrutiny. Here are the general requirements. Height 5 feet 4 and not over 6 feet. Weight not less than 128 pounds and not more than 190. Lungs and heart must be nearly perfect. Hearing and sight must be good. Chronic and mental disorders cause rejection. Loss of fingers, toe, or ear are disqualifications. Flat or deformed feet are also causes for rejection. Surgeons will examine closely for affected kidneys and chest. At least four molar teeth are necessary. "This war will be of young men, an official of the medical corps said today."

Stone Supports Denman In Ship Controversy

Goethals-Denman Fight Carried To Floor of Senate by Missourian

(By United Press)

Washington, June 19.—Warning against the "bold attempt to rob the United States treasury" Senator Stone today charged Governor Goethals made contracts at $95 a ton for steel. Mr. Denman took these contracts and made contract tentatively at $56 a ton. I am compelled to say that I rejoice that such a man as Denman heads the shipping board.

Estimate $20,000,000 Was Raised Yesterday

New York Figures Not Available At Late Hour Today

(By United Press)

Washington, June 19.—Every big city is active today in the Red Cross work. The total returns at ten o'clock reached $3,203,250. This did not include New York City which has not as yet reported officially. According to unofficial figures New York contributions reach $14,000,000 with $1,000,000 contributed by the J. P. Morgan Co. The total figures unofficially for yesterday is $20,000,000.

French Fire Breaks Heavy German Attack

Heavy Losses Inflicted on Teuton Assaulters Of French Position

(By United Press)

Paris, June 19.—A violent German attack on the French positions taken Monday between Mt. Blonde and Mt. Cornelian (Champagne sector) were broken down in the French defensive fire, today's official report asserted. The war office described the preliminary artillery which was most violent. The Germans suffered heavy losses and the French captured many prisoners. North of St. Quentin toward Callone attacks on small posts were repulsed.

TODAY'S WAR RECIPE

From Britain's Official Win-The-War Cook-Book

STUFFED TOMATOES (for four people) One pound of tomatoes, a few crumbs or dry boiled rice, three tablespoons grated cheese, salt and pepper. Slice the tops from the tomatoes, and carefully scoop out the centers. Chop these finely and mix with them the cheese and seasoning. Add sufficient rice or crumbs to make the mixture rather stiff. Fill the tomatoes with this, and bake in a moderate oven for fifteen minutes.

FAIR COMMITTEE GETTING READY FOR BIG TIME

War Will Not Interfere With Plans For Another Big Exhibit Of Agricultural Products

SUGGESTIONS ARE INVITED

Two thousand copies of the premium list have been sent out by mail to farmers. As it is impossible to make sure who will be interested, others may secure copies in the different towns as soon as they can be distributed. Copies of premium list and entry blanks may also be had by addressing the secretary of the Agricultural society or calling at the county superintendents' office at Clearfield, Pa.

Over $4600 is offered in premiums. The Park association is starting to erect a new exhibition building 50x100 ft. The park will be put in good shape for the fair. Room for additional stock will be built, also a poultry house and coops.

Most of last year's exhibitors promised to come back. Mr. and Mrs. Farmer who did not exhibit, come this year and take a prize. Every effort will be made to use exhibitors and everybody else right. The boys and girls will find liberal prizes offered for school and garden work, stock judging and club work. Exhibits by town people will be just as welcome as by farmers. Bring some product of your garden. Ladies bring your fancy work or piece, or cakes, or bread, or jellies or canned fruits or vegetables and take some prizes. If you have anything of historical value, write or call up the Clearfield Progress. Mr. Stewart will give you information about bringing it to the fair. Relics of old times will add interest.

Mr. Merchant, you cannot afford to stay out. Your neighbor will have a booth. The automobile people will be there and we hope to have plenty of implements and machinery of all kinds. Already firms are asking permits to erect their own buildings.

Please examine the premium list carefully, not only with a view of taking prizes but for the sake of making the Clearfield county fair a credit to farmers of the county. For primarily, it is YOUR Fair—for if it does not stimulate agriculture of the better class it has no excuse for being held in this year of the nation's stress and need of all kinds of useful products especially of food products.

Holding a good, useful and financially successful fair is a very nice matter. While the educational features, the stimuli to better production, are its most valuable ones, yet amusements and recreation must be provided in order to increase attendance or it will fail financially. So in the line of free entertainment we are providing fire works for three nights by the same company that gave us such good ones last year. Will have an aeroplane for three days, baseball, and other sports, music, dancing, etc. Motor cycle racing was a splendid feature last year and will be continued. A free-for-all farmers' race for the fun there is in it will be a feature of Wednesday's program. We hope that many farmers will enter their horses and add to the sport. Thursday's county trot ought to be well filled. Everybody in the county, who thinks he has a good horse come and enter. Why not have a male race too. A real good lively male race is lots of fun. Write the secretary about it. And boys come in and organize a pony race or a foot race of a half mile. Mr. Corbett, Y. M. C. A. secretary, will take care of the sports.

All kinds of suggestions for having a good time will be welcome. And now listen—if you can get up any kind of good entertainment, band, orchestra, singing, fantastics, games, etc., that are acceptable, performers will at least get free tickets. Write secretary about anything connected with the success of the fair.

T. L. WALL, Secretary.

TUESDAY EVENING, JUNE 19, 1917

THE MONTH OF JUNE

On the fifth of the month our young men walked up to their respective polling places and placed their lives in the hands of their Uncle Sammy to do with as he sees fit. To the everlasting glory of young American manhood the fact stands out that, while this method savors of the Prussianistic, less than one per cent balked and in a nation like ours, where free speech and the circulation of all sorts of propaganda is countenanced, there are bound to be minds influenced by all sorts and conditions of notions. Be that as it may, the bulk of the youngsters have come forward and laid their lives on the altar of their country so that government of the people, by the people and for the people might not perish from the earth.

Then comes the great Liberty Loan. To be sure every man who put his money at the call of the financial heads of the nation, was solicited from a financial standpoint—the resources of the nation back of your money; you can make a safe investment; you can earn interest on your money; there is no risk; there was very little of the patriotic appeal made and it can safely be said that the loan was negotiated on a purely business basis. But here is the outstanding fact that should be read, marked and inwardly digested by our enemy; the nation rose to the occasion and overscribed this first portion of the original seven billions by nearly fifty per cent!

So much for the men and the sinews of war. Now comes the greatest of the month's achievements! We're in a whirlwind nation-wide campaign to temper our first two acts with mercy. The American Red Cross is going to raise one hundred millions of dollars to assure these that offer their lives succor in time of need; and it may further be said that we do temper our justice with mercy for the Red Cross does equal service for friend and foe. Will this campaign be a success? Will the good men and women who are not only giving of their substance but their lives succeed? IT WILL! Did you ever see anything started in this country by such systematic effort that did not get across? YOU DID NOT!

OBITUARY

TROUTMAN

Squire H. A. Troutman, a former resident of Clearfield, but for many years a well known Civil war veteran of the DuBois region, passed away suddenly at his home on Maple avenue, DuBois, at noon yesterday, aged about 71 years.

After leaving Clearfield in the early '70's Squire Troutman located at Luthersburg, later removing to Oklahoma, Sandy township, where he resided for many years and where he took a prominent part in municipal and county affairs. On account of failing health he disposed of his business at Oklahoma and moved into DuBois several months ago.

HON. S. B. ELLIOT

Hon. S. B. Elliot, for the past thirty-five years one of the best known citizens of central Pennsylvania, died at 8 o'clock last evening at the home of his daughter Mrs. F. M. Brown, in Reynoldsville. Death came suddenly, following a stroke, which was the result of a train of minor ills which had a weakening effect on the heart. He had partaken of a light dinner and had walked upstairs to his room unassisted when the attack came and he passed peacefully away in a very short time.

Mr. Elliott was in his 87th year, having been born in Rome, Bradford County, Pa., October 1, 1830. He was married in 1853 to Harriet Clark, who died in 1877. Two children survive—Ward C. Elliott, of Reynoldsville, and Mrs. F. M. Brown, of the same place. The funeral will take place on Thursday.

Mr. Elliott had resided in DuBois for several years, coming here October 1, 1883 as superintendent of the mines of Bell, Lewis & Yates. Later he was transferred to Reynoldsville, where he took charge of all the plants of the above named company.

Mr. Elliott was a member of the Pennsylvania State Legislature from Tioga county for the term of 1860. For twelve years he has been one of the most enthusiastic and active members of the State Forestry commission of Pennsylvania and has probably done more than any other man, both by his speaking and writing, to draw attention to the need of scientific reforestation of the hills of the Keystone state.

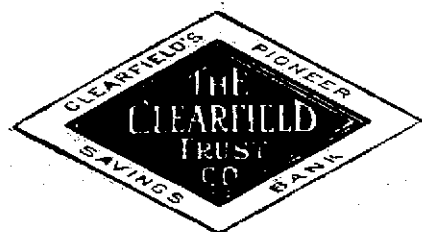

Stop Waste---Save

Thrift is an essential part of every patriot's duty.

Europe after two years of agony learned to abstain from luxuries to economize in comforts, to be frugal of necessities.

Let us profit by that example.

Preparedness by means of economy and saving is the spiritual and moral duty of every right-thinking American—NOW.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

HOW FOUR BROTHERS MET

[Adapted from Grimm's Fairy Tales.]

WHEN daddy asked if anybody wanted a story two children climbed into his lap. "Well, four brothers had to get on in the world. Their father was poor. One became an expert at taking things. No, he wasn't a thief, because he took what did not belong to others. One became a star gazer and learned what was happening in the world. The third brother met a hunter, who took him along and taught him all that was to be learned in the woods. Soon the boy became very clever in woodcraft, and when he was ready to go on by himself the hunter gave him a bow, saying, 'Whatever you shoot at with this bow you will be sure to hit.'

"The youngest brother presently met a man who asked him what he wanted to do for a living. 'How would you like to be a tailor?' asked the man. 'Sitting cross legged from morning till night and pulling forward and backward a needle with a goose sitting beside me does not appeal to me,' answered the boy.

"Oh! said the man. 'That is not the kind of tailoring I mean. Come with me and I will show you something better.'

"Having nothing better to do, the boy learned tailoring from the start. When he left his master gave him a needle and said: 'You can sew anything with this from an egg shell to a piece of steel. And the seam will be so fine that nobody can see it.'

"Better than I can sew," said Evelyn.

"After the space of four years had passed the four brothers met at a crossroads where they had parted. They were very glad to see each other, and after a good welcome they set off for their father's home. Of course, he was very glad to see his boys again and enjoyed hearing them tell how they had got on in the world and what trade they had learned.

"Of course, it is a very fine adventure to travel about the world while you are young. And those boys had kept their eyes open and had much to tell their daddy.

"One day as they were sitting at home under a big tree in the yard the father said, 'I should like to try what each of you boys can do.'

"He looked up and said to his second son: 'At the top of this tree is a chaffinch's nest. Tell me how many eggs there are in it.'

"The star gazer held up his glass and squinted through it. 'Five eggs,' said he.

"Were there five?" cried Jack.

"Just five," said daddy with a good night hug.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backache or Have Bladder trouble

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush out the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

Lillian Ruseling has graduated from the high school of Mendota, Wis., with a record of having never been absent or tardy during her entire school career of 12 years.

HOT WATER THE BEST LIVER AND BOWEL MEDICINE

Says glass of hot water before breakfast washes poisons from system.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do.

Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

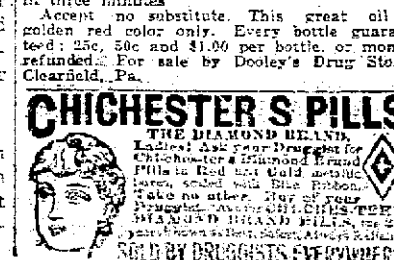

Those who wake up with bad breath coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Fort Sain Houston, June 13, 1917

Dear Mother:

As I am guard supernumerary and have nothing to do today I thought I would try to write you a few lines.

First of all I want to tell you that we were paid yesterday afternoon. It certainly makes us fellows feel good to get a pay, especially the first one from "Uncle Sam." I am sure we have earned it by our seven hours of drilling each day. I did not see anyone going up to the pay master with his hands behind his back as though he was ashamed to take pay for his services. I drew sixteen dollars and eighty-eight cents. Enclosed you will find an order for eight dollars. Next pay I expect to draw about thirty dollars and will send more then.

I received a letter from Grandma and Aunt May. They certainly can write some wonderful letters. I have read their letters over at least a half dozen times. I want to write you part of the true and helpful advice they have given me. I will start with the first part of their letter.

"Dear Clyde:

"We were very much surprised to hear that you had enlisted in the army.

"I am sure it is a brave and heroic act for a young man to leave his happy home and loved ones and face the enemy of his country at the risk of his life.

"I am praying for the war to come to a close soon for the sake of the poor suffering people abroad and the men of our country. I was inclined to believe that the more Christian nations would not engage in this war. I was hoping that the difficulties could be settled in a more sane and humane way.

"I still hope our young men will not have to go to Europe, yet if they do they can feel that they are fighting for country, home and loved ones, for the betterment of their enemies and thereby for the glory of God. The you have some hard things to endure, remember, dear boy, that you are a soldier for God and country. That you serve Him best by being obedient to your superiors in the right, being cheerful and happy as you can. When tempted to do wrong be strong as a good soldier and you have the promise of God that you shall overcome the world.

"May God keep you safe from sin and danger and bring you home safe at the end of this great struggle."

I have passed this letter of grandma's and Aunt Mary's around to the other fellows. I wish every soldier in the army could read it. I am sure it would help some as it has me.

I am receiving a nice lot of mail from Clearfield and Bellefonte. I still get The Progress and enjoy it as ever. I pass it around to the others from Clearfield and towns around home. They are all glad to hear the home news.

I had the pleasure of helping Henry Merrill of Faunce eat a cake his sister sent him. Believe me it sure did taste great. After we ate it we went outside the post and had some ice cream. We then bought enough soap and other supplies to last us till next pay. I am a dollar or so to the good each month as I don't use any tobacco.

Well, as it is time for mail call now I will close and go down after my mail. Wish best wishes to all.

From your loving son

CLYDE JOHNSON

Fort Slocum June 13, 1917

Dear Father and Mother:

Was glad to receive the Progresses that were sent to me. It sort of makes you feel at home. Dave arrived today from Clearfield. I expect to be there in July sometime.

A good many people do not know much of what the United States is going through now. She is trying to wipe out the anarchists and slackers and disloyal members of the government; in the meantime she is sending men to Europe, trying to provide for the Allies and keep her own head above water.

United States will without a question end this war; so it has been predicted, but how long will it take her to, with some disloyal American citizens.

If a man has no sons to give to the cause why not buy a liberty bond. It is a good safe investment and by buying one bond they provide for one soldier. If they buy five, they will provide for one soldier for a year. So everyone should do something to help the cause along. If not, why not. You will not receive a good answer.

Word was received here today that three regiments left for France. This is not known everywhere. Just wait till a strong body backs Old Glory. Then there is going to be a high time for some one. Everyone wants to go to France. All of us fellows are going to put in our request for transfers soon.

I tell you the people in Clearfield ought to be proud of our good old town. We have many men in the army. More than some cities. Our fellows were the first on the battle line so we are full of ardor.

We have had weather here lately, rain nearly all the time. We are all well though.

Often I wish I could be in Clearfield just a little while but I never get homesick. That is what some fellows here do. They are very melancholy.

Well, I do not have much to say as we are all the same and nothing unusual happening so I will close.

I will write more next time. I nearly forgot to tell you that Victor was mail clerk.

Good bye, God bless you With love to all WORKELL M. JONES

Employees Advice Proves Valuable

Says Sam Bell, The Well Known Porter At The Palace Hotel, Clearfield:

My employer, Edward Bird, noticed that I was not at my best, persuaded me to try Goldine. Well sir, you would be surprised to note that it made in me. Instead of being tired and worn out half the time, I am now in tip-top shape, feeling energetic and vigorous all day long. I eat better and sleep better. Instead of counting sleepless nights in the pit of my stomach, I sleep soundly and peacefully after meal time as before. My nerves are strong as steel and I sleep peacefully at night. I get up early in the morning, feeling refreshed and look forward to the day's work with pleasure. Goldine has changed my life in me. Everyone says that I am the picture of health now. I shouldn't be, when I have a good appetite, sleep free and am in happy spirits? I am grateful for Goldine. I am doing for me, and for that others who suffer as I did, profit from my experience.

Remember I am at the Star Drug Store. A talk with Goldine doesn't cost you a cent, but may save you

COMB SAGE TEA
INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not stigmata, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

HOWARD E. COFFIN

Howard E. SCHOOLS TO GET
LARGER AMOUNTS

Present Legislature Favors
$2,000,000 Increase.

TOTAL REACHES $18,000,000

Senator Crow, Who Led Movement For More Money For Public Schools, Points Out Necessity For Maintaining High Standard—Republican Party a Strong Advocate For Better Schools.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 19.—Pennsylvania's public schools seem to be coming into their own at last. The general appropriation bill calls for $2,000,000 more than two years ago, or a total of $18,000,000. As first reported the increase was for one million additional, but an amendment was inserted raising this another million.

One of the most insistent advocates of the great increase in public school funds was Senator William E. Crow, Republican state chairman and leader of the upper branch of the general assembly. The one thing he kept foremost in mind since the beginning of the session was to so shape matters that the appropriation committee might see its way clear to give the schools a substantial increase.

Senator Crow fought for this not only because of his personal belief in the state, lending every possible aid to the schools, but also by reason of the Republican party's consistent friendship towards the school system in Pennsylvania. The last Republican platform committed the party to an increased public school appropriation and the present action of the legislature is a decided step towards making good the pledge.

"Pennsylvania schools stand as high, if not higher, than the public schools of any other state, but notwithstanding this fact it is the duty of the legislature to strive to increase their efficiency," said Senator Crow a few days ago. "If this is not done it will not be long before other states pass us. Aside from this commendable desire to stand at the head of the schools of all states, I feel that we owe to the rising generation the extending of every educational opportunity. The best is not too good for the children of Pennsylvania and it is a well-known fact that it requires money to secure what is best in schools. For that reason the 1917 legislature is performing a noteworthy act in increasing the school appropriation to the extent of two million dollars over 1915."

Entitled to Credit.

"The Republican party, by reason of its dominance of the politics of Pennsylvania for so many years, is justly entitled to share in the credit for the present high standing of the schools of this state. Though it has never attempted to link politics with the schools—and, I hope, it never will—the fact remains that session after session the Republicans are in control of the general assembly and it is under their direction that the appropriations to the schools have steadily increased."

"Every Republican party platform within my knowledge has expressed its friendship to the schools of Pennsylvania. The last one was no exception. It became our duty, therefore, to do everything within our power to boost the school appropriation and I am glad that the committee has reported out an $18,000,000 bill. This is not a cent too much. Our population is steadily increasing, the necessity for new schools is more acute now than ever before and unless districts are given liberal aid from the state they will be greatly handicapped. Besides all this, the salaries of teachers have not been increased proportionately with those in other professions and trades and the willingness of the state to bear an additional financial burden, naturally enables the respective districts to grant increases wherever needed."

$400,000 For Mothers' Pension.

Another bill of state-wide importance reported out calls for $400,000 for mothers' pension. This is over twice the amount appropriated in 1915. In addition there is in the state treasury about $30,000 that reverted back by reason of certain counties failing to create a fund in accordance with the 1915 act.

Those backed of the mothers' pension movement asked $300,000, but they are satisfied that the committee did the best it possibly could under the existing financial condition of the state. A bill appropriating $100,000 for the manufacturing fund of the state prison labor commission has been reported out and will be passed. This money is to equip plants and buy machinery for penal institutions.

Another bill to see the light of day with every chance of going through is to appropriate $25,000 for the organization and work of a bureau of markets in the department of agriculture.

HELP THE PARK
IMPROVEMENT CAMPAIGN

Thousands of dollars have already been put into the park, its purchase, and improvement. Much more is needed. This is entirely apart from the expenses of the Fair, remember. The Agricultural society rents the park for the Fair from the Park association, a corporation formed for the worthy purpose of making a fit place to hold the Fair and other recreational meetings.

The money for the park's improvement has to be raised by the sale of bonds. They bear 4 per cent. interest which the Fair rental helps to pay. Clearfield county needs this Park. Clearfield especially needs it. If you have a little capital to spare put it into a good cause and help to make it a good investment, not only financially but for the good of the community by providing a pleasant place for picnic recreation and amusement, as it will become in the near future. Do this also by suggestions for planning its improvements and assisting in making them. Get interested in the Clearfield park and see or write to A. E. Leitzinger, or C. T. Kirtz, Clearfield, Pa., to find out how you can help.

More than 6,000 Canadians have joined the British navy during the war.

Juice of Lemons! How to Make Skin White and Beautiful

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as sallowness, freckles and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is wonderful to smoothen rough, red hands.

AIRPLANE DOES BATTLE WITH INFANTRY

Mounted Machine Gun On Flyer
Said To Have Annihilated A
Company Of 20 Germans

SWOOPED DOWN ON LANDSMEN

By Henry Wood
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

With The French Armies, May 23—(By Mail)—Adjutant Madon of the French Army Aviation has just received a new citation to the order of the day before the French armies for what he termed the first hand-to-hand battle between an aeroplane and infantry.

By leaving a German infantry patrol of twenty members annihilated, Madon has demonstrated that the machinegun-mounted aeroplane is as deadly on the ground as in the air.

Madon, who is one of the crack "aces" of the French aerial service, with eight German machines to his credit, had his battle just after bringing down his eighth victim.

This encounter had taken place miles behind the German lines. In the sharp, maneuvering about his German antagonist before he finally caught the latter square in the range of his machine gun and sent him gyrating to the earth, and overstrained his motor, throwing out of gear the rhythmic throb so essential to flying.

Too far away from the French lines to cut off his motor and volplane to safety, Madon had only one chance. This was to descend behind the enemy lines with the hope of getting his motor started properly and getting back into the air before the enemy should pounce on him.

Selecting a cleared place back of a forest, Madon alighted and began the hasty readjustment. Presently he noticed a man approaching, staring at him curiously. As the individual was not in uniform, and as he was far enough back of the German lines to be in territory where the civil population might still be, he decided the man must be a French peasant. Call-out to him in French he said:

"Please go away quickly, my friend I don't need your services and your presence might attract the Germans."

Within an instant, Madon was disillusioned. Turning, the man uttered a command in German and signalled for an advance. Instantly a German patrol leaped to its feet, and with rifles aimed started to bear down on the French aviator.

Almost at the same instant the motor of the airplane began the rhythmic chugging that indicated it was again operating properly. Madon leaped to his seat, loosened his brakes, adjusted his machinegun, and charged at ever increasing speed on the advancing infantry patrol.

The latter opened fire with their rifles as Madon's machinegun caught them in its deadly sweep. The Germans went down as though mowed by a cyclone, not over three or four remaining standing or kneeling.

Madon increased the speed of his engine and then bore down on the few remaining Germans. Whether they fell before the wings of the airplane struck them, or were mowed down by the machine, Madon does not know. He knows that he swept over them and an instant afterward had taken the air.

ADMINISTRATION SENATOR
ASSAILS THE FOOD BILL

Senator James A. Reed, Democrat and supporter of the administration, startled the Upper House of congress when he made a very strong attack on the administration food bill, calling it "dictatorial, vicious and unconstitutional." He said no such power as it contemplated conferring was ever wielded by "a king, a czar, a Caesar or a Kaiser."

Paris, June 1.—By Mail—How does it feel and sound in the "innards" of a British tank in action?

Bullets clattering against the steel covered sides of the newly invented war machine sound like myriads of hailstones against the window of a moving train. A direct hit by a shell shakes the monster from stern to stern and rattles your teeth but in tanks like this it merely tickles their ribs and they wallow on.

A first hand description of a tank fighting, was given here today by one of the crew of H. M. Landship "Ichthyosaurus." He speaks from inside information.

"You need your sea legs to ride a tank," the land seaman said, describing the slow rolling ride towards an enemy machine-gun "nest" somewhere on the Somme. The tank approaches the German wire—brown rusty entanglements in multitudinous rows. It slides down an old mine creater and waddles up the other side.

It cuts through the forest of wire with scratchy crunching sound and just ahead is the "nest" piles of white sand-bags with little loopholes here and there.

"We fire without ceasing hand on eye glued to the loophole pierced in the steel with sweat pouring down our forearms."

"A thud; a powerful panting, a last and almost imperceptible stop. The nose of our tank scatters sand and cement bags throwing them right and left as if it were ploughing up a field. Then comes another violent shock, and heavy blow and a crashing. We are going straight through a wall and are pulverizing machine-guns. Grenades burst upon the tank's armor. We are in the midst of the "nest." All at once enemy heads with terror on their faces appear on

Interesting Account Of Fighting From A Big British War Tank

By W. S. Forrest
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, June 1.—By Mail—How does it feel and sound in the "innards" of a British tank in action?

Bullets clattering against the steel covered sides of the newly invented war machine sound like myriads of hailstones against the window of a moving train. A direct hit by a shell shakes the monster from stern to stern and rattles your teeth but in tanks like this it merely tickles their ribs and they wallow on.

A first hand description of a tank fighting, was given here today by one of the crew of H. M. Landship "Ichthyosaurus." He speaks from inside information.

"You need your sea legs to ride a tank," the land seaman said, describing the slow rolling ride towards an enemy machine-gun "nest" somewhere on the Somme. The tank approaches the German wire—brown rusty entanglements in multitudinous rows. It slides down an old mine creater and waddles up the other side.

It cuts through the forest of wire with scratchy crunching sound and just ahead is the "nest" piles of white sand-bags with little loopholes here and there.

"We fire without ceasing hand on eye glued to the loophole pierced in the steel with sweat pouring down our forearms."

"A thud; a powerful panting, a last and almost imperceptible stop. The nose of our tank scatters sand and cement bags throwing them right and left as if it were ploughing up a field. Then comes another violent shock, and heavy blow and a crashing. We are going straight through a wall and are pulverizing machine-guns. Grenades burst upon the tank's armor. We are in the midst of the "nest." All at once enemy heads with terror on their faces appear on both sides of us. Now is our turn. Our machine guns crackle; our bullets whistle into the German trenches which are enfiling and we throw lead into the underground passages leading from the "nest" to the rear. The Germans are in the greatest disorder. They throw themselves flat on their stomachs, they raise their arms to heaven and some of them try to run away.

"A whistle sounds in the tank and we stop. Then wild cheers come faintly to our ears. The Tommies are just behind us. They take possession of the "nest" and gather up everything living which remains."

"I learned of it through my son, who brought me the medicine about a week ago, and I began taking it."

"Owing to a bad, weak stomach, I have eaten very little for years, and I naturally, my strength and vitality, came very much lowered. Food, however, agreed with me, even the hardest kinds causing distress after eating. I had spells of bloating, shortness of breath, palpitation, dizziness and headaches. Months and months of such misery are sure to undermine the health of any woman. I finally grew very nervous and could not eat well at night."

"I am now feeling the best I have in years. Tanlac relieved me immediately. The second day my appetite increased. I really was hungry and the blandest thing of all is that eating did not hurt me. Tanlac strengthened my digestion and I do not have bloating or shortness of breath. The palpitation, headaches and dizziness have also gone."

"Tanlac has made a new woman of me. I feel better every way. My nerves are better. I have plenty of strength and never have a bit of trouble sleeping. Tanlac is different from all other medicines."

"Tanlac, the celebrated Master Medicine is now sold here by Woodward & McPherson."

Imperialism Stamped From North America Fifty Years Ago Today

Execution of Maximilian of Mexico Recalled With Considerable Interest at This Time

Washington, D. C., June 19.—In the light of present events it is not without interest to recall that today is the fiftieth anniversary of the execution of the Emperor Maximilian of Mexico, whose untimely end represented the greatest victory ever achieved for the Monroe doctrine and the greatest defeat ever suffered by the cause of imperialism at the hands of Democracy in America.

American diplomacy has never shown more brilliantly than during the trying period of the foreign occupation of Mexico, immediately before and after the close of the war between the States. The attitude of the United States toward the Napoleonic scheme of establishing an empire in the West commanded profound respect, even in the mind of as good a hater of the people as Louis Napoleon.

In the early part of 1864, when Maximilian ascended the throne of Mexico, he made known the fact of his accession to all the great powers of the world, who immediately recognized the empire by sending diplomatic representatives to reside at his court. The United States, however, took no notice of the communication.

But in 1865 the situation had wholly changed. The American civil war was ended and the republic was saved. Among the questions of the new peace, scarcely less potent than those of reconstruction, was the standing menace to our liberties of the new empire in the south.

On December 6, 1865, the United States government defined its exact policy and position to the French minister in the following communication:

"Republican and domestic institutions on this continent are deemed most congenial with and most beneficial to the United States. Where the people of any country, like Brazil now or Mexico in 1822, have voluntarily established and acquiesced in monarchical institutions of their own choice, free from all foreign control or intervention, the United States does not refuse to maintain relations with such governments, or seek through propaganda, by force or intrigue, to overthrow those institutions. On the contrary, where a nation has established institutions republican and domestic, similar to our own, the United States asserts in its behalf that no foreign nation can rightfully intervene by force to subvert republican institutions and establish those of an antagonistic character."

This was a definition of the Monroe Doctrine which brooked no qualification. The government at Washington followed it up with a formal demand that Louis Napoleon withdraw its troops from Mexico. An army of 50,000, with Sheridan and Custer and other noted civil war commanders, was hurried south, charged with the ostensible duty of restoring Texas and Louisiana to the union, but with the real purpose of driving the French and Austrians out of Mexico unless they were withdrawn voluntarily.

Louis Napoleon saw the handwriting on the wall and withdrew the French troops from Mexico, leaving Maximilian to his fate. With a dwindling army of a few thousand men, the ill-fated Emperor faced the advancing armies of the Mexican patriots. He was driven back to Queretaro and that city was forthwith besieged by the Republicans. Reduced to the last pinch, Maximilian and his followers were forced to surrender. The Emperor and the principal officers who remained with him were

BOUGHT A LIBERTY BOND

Every one of the 10,667 bluecoats of the New York police force bought a Liberty Bond. This policeman, known to every millionaire in New York City who frequents Wall Street as "Big Bill" Roberts, traffic man at Dey street and Broadway, bought one for himself, one for his wife and one for his only child. Members of the force took bonds to the total of $778,850 under the encouragement of Police Commissioner Woods, one of the few heads of the police department in fifteen years for whom they have had full respect.

Miss Eleanor Usher is spending a few days with her aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Leitzinger at their bungalow.

Senator James A. Reed, Democrat and supporter of the administration, startled the Upper House of congress when he made a very strong attack on the administration food bill, calling it "dictatorial, vicious and unconstitutional." He said no such power as it contemplated conferring was ever wielded by "a king, a czar, a Caesar or a Kaiser."
